SMOKING BAN LIFTED BY DR. LEONARD

Smoking to be Permitted in Lounge and Cafeteria

New Plans Will Be Revoked If Students Lack Cooperation

By ED OSORIO

The most welcomed communique ever to be issued from a college president's office was handed to the students of San Francisco State College today when President J. Paul Leonard announced that effective Monday, January 21, smoking will be permitted in the Student Lounge and College Cafeteria as well as in faculty members' offices.

However, Dr. Leonard warns that this new plan is being put into effect as an experiment and will be kept in operation only as long as State students adhere to certain qualifications which appear in the memorandum below.

To the Faculty and Students:

We are anxious to do everything possible at San Francisco State to improve the social life of the institution and to take full advantage of the buildings and their facilities. On the other hand, we must prevent the outbreak of fire. I am sure that all of us, the students and the faculty alike, will be willing to cooperate in a plan both to protect our buildings and to make greater use of them, and to this end I am putting into effect a change in the regulations regarding smoking, starting Monday, January 21.

We will maintain these regulations as an experiment only as long as it works, and I should like to appeal through the Golden Gater to the students for their complete cooperation, for their rigid adherence to the regulations, for their individual care for whatever they smoke, and for tapping any student on the shoulder who is violating the regulations, asking him for his cooperation. Only the students can make this plan work. If following it becomes hazardous to our plant, it will be necessary to revert to the present arrangement.

Smoking will be permitted in the Golden Gater Office and in the hallways of Anderson Hall; in the Student Lounge and in Annex A, and in the cafeteria; faculty may also smoke in their offices. SMOKING WILL BE PROHIBITED IN ANY OTHER ROOM IN THE ANNEXES; IN ALL DRESSING ROOMS AND IN ANY CLASSROOM OR IN THE HALLS OF COLLEGE HALL.

February Graduates to Be Honored by Faculty at Tea

Seniors graduating this semester will be honored at a tea to be given by the college faculty next Friday, February 1, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., in the Activities Room, according to Dean Mary A. Ward.

Graduates entitled to receive teaching credentials will receive them at a ceremony preceding the faculty tea. No. A.B. degrees will be presented at this time. Since the college holds only one formal graduation a year, graduates of this semester's class are invited to participate in the graduation activities in June, and will receive A.B. degrees at that time.

Art Students Display Skill

Members of the Art 75 and 171AB classes demonstrated the making of silk screen prints, books, boxes, and toys at an informal gathering yesterday in the Activities Room from 2 to 4.

Original ideas for designs that could be worked out in the different media were shown by the Art 35 class in collaboration with the other group. Mrs. Susan Benteen Irwin, art instructor, was director for the demonstration of crafts in action.

Tea and cookies were served by the Art Federation members under the supervision of Dean Mary Ward. The faculty was invited to attend the exhibition from 4 to 5.

Seniors Must Have Franciscan Photos Taken By Thursday

Graduating seniors who have not yet had their pictures taken or the Franciscan must contact Etta Bucholtz, Box 132, for an appointment if they want to be represented in the book, as next Thursday is the last day of senior photography.

Individual pictures for organizations are now being scheduled on the same plan as the seniors' pictures were. Students will be photographed by Thomas King, photographer, in room A114. Bill Rapp, Franciscan staff photographer, will start taking group pictures at the beginning of next semester.

Two Hundred Take Part in English Writing Contest

Approximately 200 students are taking part in the English 2 essay contest, which ends today. All members of English composition classes have submitted essays, the three best of which will be awarded prizes. Prizes will be awarded at an informal tea to be held in the Activities Room next Thursday afternoon. Staffs of the Golden Gater, Franciscan, and Inklings will also be present as guests of honor.

Dr. Burnett Will Make Recommendations to BBB

Dr. R. Will Burnett, professor of biological science, will confer with bay area high school teachers next Tuesday, January 22, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in the Activities Room of the college.

The purpose of the study to be conducted at the meeting is to make specific recommendations to the National Better Business Bureau concerning specifications for booklets, models, charts, exhibits, ,and pictures useful in the field of science instruction at pre-college levels. The study is being made under the auspices of the National Science Teachers Association and gives teachers an opportunity to contribute directly to national policy relative to science teaching, according to Dr. Burnett.

Members of State's science department will meet the guests, and the College Social Committee will serve refreshments.

Junior Prom To Be Held At Claremont Next Friday; Queen Contest Fervor Reaches Climax As Coronation Nears

Secret Panel of Seven Men To Be Selected Next Week

On its way toward becoming the outstanding social event of the year, the formal Junior Prom will be held next Friday night in the Spanish room of the Hotel Claremont. With the theme of the dance, the Coronation Ball, the event is being centered around the Queen of the night. The identity of the Queen and the two princesses are as yet unknown, and will not be revealed until 11 o'clock at the dance, with the grand Queen's waltz following the coronation.

The secret board of seven men will be selected sometime next week, and will choose the Queen and the two princesses from the field of eleven beauteous women competing for the title. The beautiful gold trophy to be presented to the Queen has been obtained, and only the name of the winner remains to be added.

Although the majority of the dancers will be in evening dress, dark suits will be permissible along with tuxedos and dinner jackets. The Prom will feature the music of Bert Whiting's radio orchestra from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Queen Choice Still in Doubt

Much speculation as to the choice of the Queen is being heard around the campus. The eleven lovelies running for the reignship are Betty Henry, Joan Uhler, Coleen Calvert, Mrs. Eleanor Stone, Marilyn Stensen, Betty Hickman, Dee Longacre, Mimi Robbins, Pat Kilkenny, Peg O'Hare, Jean Spaulding. The secret board of seven men will choose the three winners solely from the standpoint of beauty. The three most beautiful women will be announced promptly at the stroke of 11 o'clock by Junior Class President Lou Rubin, and will be crowned by the Queen of last year's dance Helena Mitchell.

Most Attractive Bids in Years

The bids for the dance will be presented at the door in exchange for the ticket. The bids are being done in gold and white and are one of the most attractive ever to be used at a State dance. Ticket sales will close as soon as the quota of two hundred is exhausted, and under no condition will tickets be sold later than next Friday noon. The price of tickets is $2.25 with student body cards, and $3.00 without. The student bodies of Cal, U. S. F. and J. C. have been invited as guests by the Junior Class.

Vying for the much sought after title of Queen Of The Junior Prom, State coeds, Mimi Robbins, Joanne Uler, Coleen Calvert, Betty Hickman, Marityn Stenson, Pat Kilkenny, Betty Henry, Jean Spaulding, Peg O'Hare, Elean or Stone and Dee Longacre pose prettily for Gater photographer Bill Rapp.

Editorial

The State of Tomorrow.

Todays' edition marks the last appearance of the Gater during the fall semester. Next term there will be new personalities at the editorial reigns, reflecting the new thoughts of the school. With each succeeding term the era of State's existence as a mere shell of a college during the war years is coming to an end. Next spring the student body will approximate two thousand. The vast enrollment increase will be highlighted by the return of our veterans—men whose desires, ideas, and thoughts have been modified by war. This modification must necessarily affect the institution as a whole. We have a new president, and we are gaining a new campus. These points will be the cardinal factor in the shaping of the new State.

The State of tomorrow will offer active competition to the other schools of the West. No longer will the school plod alone in the traditional rut which has for so many years been its heritage. The State of tomorrow will see the opening of many new departments, new credentials, and degrees which will make the college desirable to a vast group of men and women who have heretofore gone elsewhere for their education.

The men in the administrative positions of the college have at last realized that it is completely illogical for a school located in the financial, industrial, and cultural center of the entire western United States to be merely in the rank and file of educational institutions. State is at last fighting for the position that its potentialities deserve and demand.

The vision of the State of tomorrow is rapidly becoming a reality. It is very possible that a number of this semester's freshmen will graduate from an institution as much unlike that at which they began as can be conceivably imagined. So watch it grow ,the State of tomorrow!

Apathy Still Prevails

Maestro, play "Hearts and Flowers" please—this is going to be sad.

The Fall term has just about fallen, and now we can sneeringly look back and see what we thought would happen this semester and what actually happened. Way, way back in September, in the Gater's write-up of the first rally, Activities Commissioner Ed Doty was quoted as saying, "This rally is the opening gun in State's war on student apathy." Hey! Who put in those blanks? We keep pulling the trigger, but old man Apathy just stands there, sticking his tongue out at us.

Let's face it, dears. We've only had two "reasonably good" student turnouts all semester—the J.C. football game and the Cal basketball game. Both of these went over because a small group of rah-rah phobes who take delight in beating themselves out nearly drove themselves psychopathic getting the studnt body keyed to an adequate point of emotional intensity. On days when this small group hadn't taken their No-Doze, the rest of the school slumbered happily on and turnouts were pitiful. Goodness gracious! You'd think most of the students think cheering the team on itn's important. Gee whiz—you'd think they'd rather spend their time doing other things . . . wutcha?

Rushing, pushing crowds.
Elbows, umbrellas
Crying children
Worried women
Mumbling men
Growling, snarling herds of people.

Stopping, starting traffic.
Pedestrians, policemen
Honking horns
scaping street cars
Bossy busses
Blocked and tangled transportation.

Dripping, dropping weather.
Rubbers, raincoats
Splashing spray
Murky mud
Slippery cement
Foggy, filmy atmosphere.

Lofty, looming buildings.
Stucco, steel

Dear Mamma

By HY BIK

Guenever Schlockhammer, State's perennial freshman, from whom we haven't heard in a long, long time, writes home:

Dear Mama,

Guess what! I was elected president of every club I belong to! In the first of the club elections, I couldn't be there, so I won in a snap. In the one after that, there wasn't much of a problem. It was my turn to be president anyway. I didn't want to be president of the other two, though. I kept on shouting "I recline! I recline!" and everybody said "Yes, we do too, Guenever—every night" and then they elected me. Gee, am I going to be busy all next term. Just think—preparing the menus for four banquets!

I guess everything's happening to me—I've got a brand new boy friend, too. Harry Erlich, who belongs to the Hy Ate a Pie fraternity, and who is editor of the Franciscan, sent me a note typed with a beautiful purple ribbon. And what do you think, Mama? He wants my picture! He must be the bashful type; he hasn't even spoken to me yet.

I got my program for next semester all figured out. I'm switching from the Liberal Arts Matriculum to Credential work because that way more courses are opened up to me. Next term I'm taking sub-collegiate penmanship, sub-collegiate music, sub-collegiate mathematics, and sub-collegiate English, and everybody's so helpful! Right now they're digging a hole for my locker.

Love,
Guenever.

Helpful Hints

Occasionally, one of the more scholarly courses will demand certain research into abstract material. The library may have certain limitations in this regard so it behooves one to add his contribution to this virgin field.

The following was an English I requirement:

The Secret of How to Navigate Yourself and a Woman Through a Revolving Door at the Same Time!

Naturally, an undertaking of this magnitude will require the maximum in innate ability, and a solemn, steadfast determination. The inconsistencies of this procedure, together with the contradictory forces of nature, present an extremely complex situation.

The following suggestions are offered in considering this endeavor:

1. Do you have a speaking acquaintance with the individual sharing your experience?

2. Does the width of the aperture in question permit the passage of a corporeal assault?

3. Do you have any dependents?

4. Have you made the necessary precautions, considering the vague possibility of a slight miscalculation?

We have now considered all the preparatory data necessary, so we will describe the next step.

You will calmly procure a wrench from your back pocket, walk to the revolving door, and dismantle it.

The final procedure will be left to the discretion of the individuals concerned, thereby insuring individualistic freedom.

DEATH OF THE JAZZMEN

By TOM THORP

They are so few in number . . . so very few.
The last flickering embers of a dying fire.
Each year, each month, the dwindling ranks are thinned a little more.
They are so few . . . and there are none to replace them.

Jazz came north in the roaring twenties.
It was a fast, driving music; loud and vulgar.
Jazz — the music of an enslaved race.
The sensual, raucous hokum of the gin mills and bawdy houses;
The sobbing, moaning blues of the gulf coast;
The fast, tinkling ragtime of St. Louis and Kansas City;
The throbbing drums of the Congo;
Jazz was all this. All this and something more.

Jazz — "It don't mean a thing but it costs real money down 'round 22nd street."
Who where the men who played this strange new music?
Where did these rude, untutored musicians come from?
Musicians who made a thousand dollars in one night playing a music which wasn't even written down.
They came from the red light district of New Orleans;
They came from the river boats of the Mississippi;
They came from the lumber camps of Texas;
From the rice fields of Louisiana;
From the gambling joints of St. Louis.
Musical illiterates who played by ear, the way they felt it.
"Playin' jazz is talkin' from the heart. You don't lie."
Simple boys. Playing from the heart.
Shot to fame and fortune overnight.
Sometimes they got a little mixed up. A little bewildered by all the easy money.
Easy come, easy go. We're on top now. We'll always be on top.
Johnny Dodds — playing every night with a solid silver clarinet.
Jelly Roll Morton — "I invented jazz" — with a flame-red Cadillac a block long.
King Joe Oliver — with a five-carat diamond stickpin and a five hundred dollar bill in his watch pocket.
But pretty soon the novelty wore off and the public got bored.
And Tin Pan Alley discovered jazz.
So did George Gershwin.
Paul Whiteman hired fifty men and started calling himself the 'King of Jazz.'
He recorded Gershwin's 'Rhapsody In Blue' and called it a jazz classic.
The public didn't know the difference, nor would they have cared;
While the only original music America ever conceived was torn down and sold by the piece.
The boys who'd been taught that notes come before music put down the notes and learned them by heart.
And they lost something.
You can't memorize a sunset.
You can't write down a summer storm.
Jazz was torn down and sold to Tin Pan Alley for its thirty pieces of silver.
But what of the men who played this music that couldn't be written down and survive?
Some of them were smart.
They forgot the music they had created.
They forgot the music that had created them.
They forgot their ideals and left their heritage behind them.
They sold out to Tin Pan Alley, a dirty little street off Broadway.
But they survived.
Some of their names are still familiar.
You can read them in Downbeat or Metronome.
You can hear them on the radio.
You can see them in lights at a local ballroom.
Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Jack Teagarden, Goodman, Basie, Dosey, James . . . .
They used to play music that was strong and living
They used to play jazz.
They still play music, and sometimes they even call it jazz.
But it really isn't jazz anymore.
Sometimes it isn't even music.
But what of the musicians who weren't quite so smart?
What about the boys who didn't believe you could sell the music of a race down the river like the race itself had once been sold?
What about the stubborn jazzmen?
What about the boys who would rather play jazz than eat?
After a while they didn't eat.
It was as simple as that.
Johnny Dodds hocked his silver clarinet and went to work in a taxi dance hall.
His last clarinet was held together by butcher's twine.
Jelly Roll Morton sold his big red car and limped out to Los Angeles.
When he died, in 1939, his body was saved from a pauper's grave by a record dealer who had known him when.
King Oliver, his health failing, his teeth gone, spent his last years in a Georgia slum.
He lies today in an unmarked grave.
Once in a while there was a job available for the old-time jazzmen in the same kind of a dive that jazz first came from,
A joint where they still wanted music that was loud and wild.
But these joints were few and far between.
Today they are fewer still.
They still play jazz, the scattered handful who remain;
But they are fast disappearing ,and their music with them.
Soon the scattered handful will be gone.
Their music will be only a memory.
A memory, and a ride chorus coming scratchily off a few old, worn phonograph records.

One by one they cast their weary loads aside . . .
One by one the last tunes are played . . .
"Look down that long lonesome road, Lord, You know it's got to en'."
One by one the battered horns are stilled.

MEET YOUR FACULTY

Long a personality in the lives of every man at State, but seldom recognized by any of the women, Dr. Martin Debenham is the college physician for men.

Affectionately known as the "mad butcher of State," Dr. Debenham is especially prominent in the activities of State athletes. As the good doctor to whom all varsity men turn in their hour of misery, Dr. Debenham has cured the athletic ailments of our men for well over a decade.

An extremely avid sports fan, Dr. Debenham and his two sons are a well known figure at the intercollegiate games. Many a player has returned to the fray, with his injury smoothed by the hands and mind of State's medico.

A specialist in surgery, Dr. Debenham enjoys city wide prominence as one of the outstanding abdominal surgeons in San Francisco. He has served with his energy, time and knowledge with perservering devotion, to the men of State, in many instances devoting time out of his regular downtown office hours to administer to ailments which the college health department has not sufficient equipment.

On behalf of the men of State, the Gater salutes you, Dr. Debenham, for distinguished service.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION!

Your chance has finally arrived for you to see the operas and the Skating Vanities at no expense. Ushers for these affairs are needed and any member of the student body may sign with Miss Josephine Roose in the music office. The opera season will run until January 23, and the Vanities until January 30.

Smoke Ban Lifted

May I make one further request. Receptacles will be provided in Anderson Hall, the Student Lounge and in the cafeteria for the depositing of ashes and cigarette butts. I am sure you will make use of them and thus prevent the need for additional janitorial service on the floors.

DR. J. PAUL LEONARD,
President of San Francisco State College.

Lost Week-end

By Renee Laboure

Charles Jackson's "Lost Week-end" brought to the screen of the Fox Theatre this week a stirring, psychological episode in the life of an extreme alcoholic.

Ray Milland, who has previously engaged in light comedy roles, demonstrates his ability as a dramatic star. Although he exhibits unusual emotional depth in some scenes, his acting in others is slightly over-played, to say the least. However, the scenes that he does play well are breath-taking. The horrors of the mental anguish and hallucinations which he witnesses because of his constant search for the "bottle" are so impressive that many of the movie-goers have left the theatre asking . . . "Where's the bottle?"

The picture depicts the final loss of a man's soul and respectability during a period of five days. His struggle for mental stability is overpowered by his thirst for the fatal "golden liquid." Throughout the entire performance he is a complete slave to it, and his sudden change to good at the end of the picture is very unrealistic. It appears that in Hollywood, whether a play is good or bad, the old familiar "good triumphs over evil" is still being used and will still continue to be used for the sake of the idealist.

Jane Wyman, whom you will remember as a cute little blonde, dons a black hair-do, and eliminates the comedy to become Milland's sympathetic fiancee. One cannot help wondering how the script writer could possibly have conceived such a loyal and persevering character as the one which Miss Wyman portrays. The complete neglect of affection on Milland's part causes one to wonder if there is any love in his heart for his fiancee or if his only love is the "bottle." Yet, as always in most current films, love triumphs over all, giving the lovelorn females hope for the future.

Doris Dowling, another sexy come-on gal, plays the other woman.

Producer Brackett and Director Wilder deserve credit for bringing to the screen this well-filmed production; however, "Lost Week-end" would have they had not deviated in many instances from the author's original thought.

The Past Semester As Seen By Cameraman Bill Rapp

Phi Eta Chi continued its commendible work as one of State College's leading service organizations.

Yell leaders Judee Underwood, Rita Koller and Barbara MacKee went all out to see that our teams received adequate student support.

Lou Rubin, Junior Class Prexy, headed the semester's most vigorous dance publicity campaign.

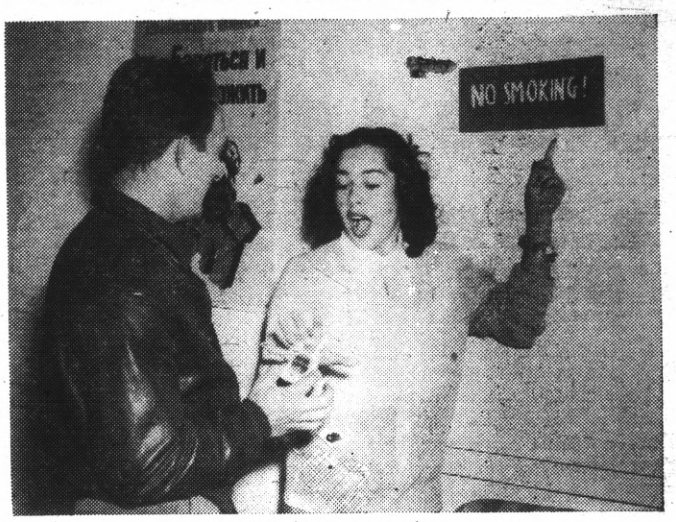
The Class Officers' Association was taken out of moth balls and set into operation.

The editorial offices of the Golden Gater were finally moved from the large telephone booth into more spacious quarters in Anderson Hall.

The College Theater group successfully presented "The Late Christopher Bean."

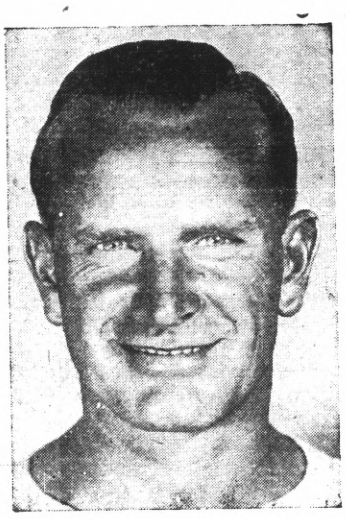
Hy Bik still vainly tried to influence the mystic Quija Board.

Head Football Coach Dick Boyle returned to State after a leave of absence in the navy.



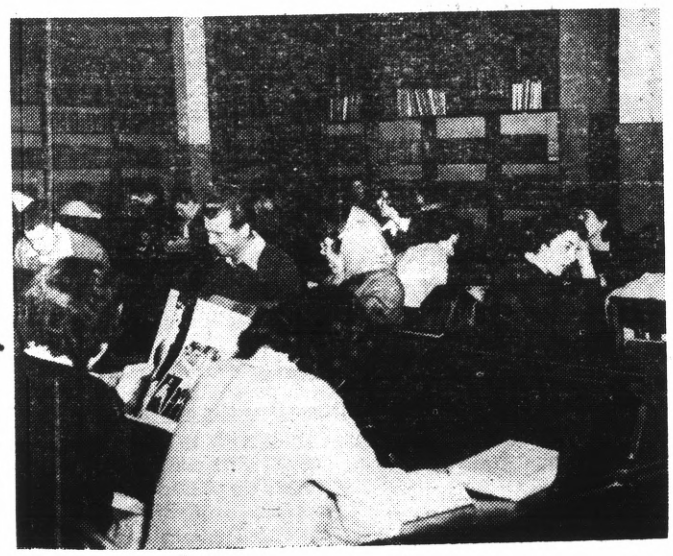
The student lounge was finally reopened but smoking was still verboten.

Crowds still milled around the newspaper office griping and waiting for the Gater to hit the streets.



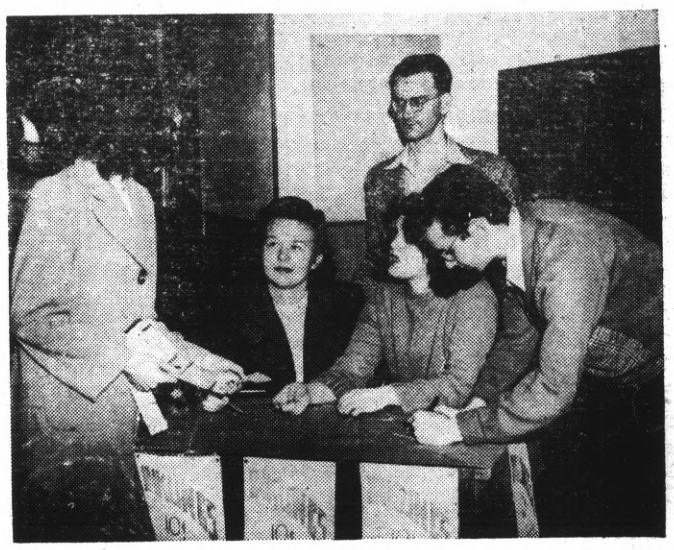
Hal Harden, baseball coach, returned to State after serving his country.

The Junior Prom Queen Contest created a mild panic among the lovelies of State.



State students hadn't broken the habit of cramming for those feared exams.

Track Mentor Ray Kaufman took off his uniform to again coach State's thinclad band.



The second issue of State's literary magazine INKLINGS came out to meet even greater success than the first.

Activities Commissioner Ed Doty did a fine job in handling State's rallies.

Harry Erlich, Franciscan editor, completed his groundwork for the 1946 College year book.

Prexy Mary Jane Parker kept her AWS running smoothly.

State Cagers Battle Cal Aggies Tonight;

SPORT DOPE By SCOTT HOPE

Via the grapevine has come word that the California Intercollegiate Conference is in the process of reforming. At present this loop is composed of four schools, San Diego State, Santa Barbara State, Fresno State, and San Jose State. However, the fathers of this conference are currently discussing plans for enlarging the organization to six, eight, or more members.

In the past San Francisco State has received several invitations to join the CIC, but each time has refused. It is not because we fear that we would not be able to compete on equal ground with these larger schools. There are, primarily, two reasons for this refusal. First, in the past the conference has been active in but two sports, football and basketball. State, in non-war years, has fielded as many as a dozen teams in a dozen different activities. Second, State does not condone the practice of subsidizing athletes, a practice that has been prevalent at more than one of the conference schools.

This scribe, along with several members of the coaching staff and faculty, would like to see State in some conference, but with the restrictions of the CIC, as it stands now, it is unlikely that we will join. Criticism it not ethical unless it is accompanied with constructive suggestions. This column has a few of same to make.

1. Open up the conference to include from eight to a dozen squads; Chico, Humboldt, COP, Cal Aggies, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Fresno, San Diego, Los Angeles City College, the University of Nevada, Cal Poly, and S.F. State, among others, are certainly the nucleus of a strong conference. It would also be practical to divide the conference into northern and southern divisions.

2. Enlarge the scope of the conference to include all phases of inter-collegiate activity: baseball, track, tennis, boxing and wrestling, etc.

3. Write a constitution! This constitution should contain: a. set rules of eligibility (among which should be a provision allowing war veterans to transfer from one school to another without losing a year of eligibility; also, a provision allowing the use of freshmen for a period not to exceed three years.) b.- a set standard or moral code (which would include a deep frown on proselyting or subsidizing athletes.) c.- a provision that a certain number of games be played in order to make a school eligible for a title. This number should not exceed five in certain sport (football for instance) in order to allow a freedom in inter-sectional or established games between cross-town rivals, etc.

PROBLEM NUMBER TWO.

State has planned a very active spring session as far as sports are concerned. Here, too, there is a hitch. It is impossible to accomplish all these activities with the limited facilites available here at State. Many of these facilities are, and will be, available at the new campus, but here is the hitch. There is no transportation out there. It would be impossible to ask the men to go out there via street car or private conveyance. It seems to me that the school could furnish a bus that would transport the men to and from the Lake Merced campus. This school is a state organization and the construction of the new campus is in the hands of the State, so why could not the state acquire a bus that would transport us to the new campus?

(Incidentally, the foregoing statements are the opinions of this scribe and do not necessarily reflect those opinions of either the Men's PE Dept., the Faculty, or the Golden Gater.)

Rambling Notes on the San Jose Trip

Although the attendance was not as good as the promoters of the trip down to the game hoped, a goodly turnout made a heck of a lot of noise. The bus in which we were traveling was visited by the yell leader of San Jose after the game, and for the second time this year we were paid the compliment of having one of the best rooting sections in the bay area... the noise in the busses going down was terrific... I don't know where they get it, but, the members of this student body are the singingest bunch of characters I have ever seen... 'tis good!... I talked to members of the SJ root section after the fracas and they said that the SA-SA-SAN Fran yell sounded mighty fine... Hubba Hubba, two more points... San Jose's rooting section is the best I have seen thus far this year... that was a gracious gesture on the part of Mel Martin when he walked over and shook hands with Ed Maggetti following the Spartan star's removal from the game... Ed is plenty good, both as a basketball player and as a gentleman...

Ad Trivia

Barbara Krase, on the national tennis rating just released, is the twelfth ranking woman's player in the U. S. Barbara, as most of you know, is a student here at State... Jim McCann and Bill Clark took physicals (again) yesterday as a prelude to a sojourn in khaki... Paul Fish is also sweating it out... What was Bill Kennerley doing standing all by his lonesome for almost an hour at 27th and Clement... Don Pagani, m' boss, was the taxi driver for thirteen bee-yut-iful women, following the San Jose game... In order to make it official, Art Blum is back on the campus, preparatory to re-entering State. Welcome home, m' bucko...

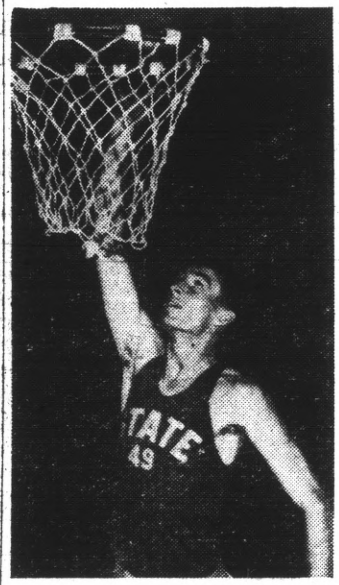
Man of the Week

This week's award of one small Scotty goes to genial Dan Farmer, who from here on in will be referred to as L'il Nell. I won't say that Dan missed his calling, but, a reliable rumor has it that there are forty-one Hollywood talent scouts trailing him.

Meet C.P.O. Tomorrow Eve.

The Gators will seek to take their five won and five lost record this season into the credit side of the ledger tonight and tomorrow night when they meet the Cal Aggies from Davis and the College of the Pacific from Stockton, at Kezar.

The battle tonight will find the Gators meeting an Aggie five that has yet to win its first game. They have dropped five straight tussles, including two to Fresno State and a two point defeat at the hands of COP. The Aggies will field an all-ex servicemen five headed by center Mike Schaffer, the squad's high scorer. The rest of the Aggie line-up will be Jack Rockwell and Vince Petrucci, forwards, and Ed Edgerton and Ken Robbins, guards.



TOM COLLINGWOOD
High scoring varsity center

MOHR AT GUARD

The probable starting line-up for the Gators for both games will be Mel Martin or Don Ellis at one forward and Jack Byrne at the other; Tom Collingwood at center; and Hal Fox and Grove Mohr at the guard positions.

Starting time for the Gator-Aggie game is 8 p.m. and will be preceded by a contest between the State JV and Commerce High School.

C.O.P HAS ENVIABLE RECORD

The Tigers from C.O.P. will come to Kezar boasting a record of seven wins and six losses. The Tiger schedule has included many front-ranked teams and the Tigers have proven themselves capable of giving any club a hard game. Forward Frank Burnett tops the Tiger scorers thus far, but a newcomer who has played in less than half the games, John Guilfoyle, is the man who has been sparking the Tiger attack in recent games. The floor game of the Stocktonites is built around reliable Frank Boyle, a veteran of three years collegiate basketball experience. The probable starting line-up will be: Forwards, Frank Burkett and John Guilfoyle or Jerry Haines; center, Stan Reames (6 ft. 3 in.); guards, Frank Boyle and Charlie Cooke. Cooke and Reames, incidentally, are native San Franciscans.

The starting time for this game is 7:30 p.m.

JAYVEES OVERCOME FIVE POINT LEAD TO BEAT ST. JAMES

KEZAR PAVILION, Jan. 11.—State's junior varsity overcame an early lead to trounce St. James 37 to 28 here tonight. John Grantham paced the winners with 11 points, but high point honors went to Johnny Wyrsch of the Wolves, who garnered 18 digits.

After the Gators drew first blood on Grantham's lay-in shot, Wyrsch and Walsh shot the Saints into a 9 to 3 lead, and they apparently had the game under control, thanks to great back board work by Wyrsch and Boyle.

Lead Shrinks

The Saints were doing well until they tired out trying to keep up with the dizzy pace set by the Gators' fast break, and their lead and confidence shrank to two points.

When trailing 13 to 11, the Gators opened up and spurted into a 17 to 13 half-time lead, and then rolled up a 14-point lead as Bill Clark, Elm Roelling, and Grantham sank eight consecutive field goals.

BYRNE LEADS VARSITY CAGERS; GRANTHAM HEADS JUNIOR VARSITY

Jack Byrne, who has scored 130 points in nine games for a 13.3 average, leads the State varsity in scoring followed by Tom Collingwood with 103 digits in eight appearances.

Leading the junior varsity is John Grantham, with 132 points in eight games, or a 16.5 average.

Spartans Whip JV's; Overcome Big Lead

SAN JOSE, Jan. 16—The San Jose State junior varsity overcame a thirteen point lead with four minutes left and coasted on to a 54 to 48 victory over the S. F. State jayvees here tonight.

When the scoreboard showed the Gators leading 42 to 27 with 11 minutes left in the game, the customers began to yawn, thinking State had the contest on ice. But they did not reckon with Lylah Lindsey, Spartan center, who personally scored eight points from the hole in the next few minutes.

Spartans Take Lead

And, with the Spartan's confidence rising and the Gators' morale sinking, Ed Waterman's 30-foot shot sent San Jose into a 45 to 44 lead for the first time since the second minute of play.

Johnny Grantham, State center, took high-point honors for the evening with 17, and Lindsey sank 12 tallies for the winners.

SPORTS CARNIVAL HUGE SUCCESS

In one of the finest programs ever held at State, the Annual Sports Show under the combined auspices of the Physical Education Department was held before a capacity student body in the Women's Gym yesterday.

Following a number by the college band, a boxing match between Jack (the Killer) Pilieri and John (Murder, he says) Nazar was staged.

Quartet Amusing

In one of the most comical quartets ever assembled, the famous Faculty Quartet sung, in typical bar-room fashion "Dear Old Girl." In order, a wrestling match between El (the terrible) Roelling and Dick (Gunga Din) Bunker provided laughs and entertainment for the crowd.

As usual, Vince O'Leary, besides master of ceremonies, put on a fine review of bag punching.

Following this display of the manly art of bag punching, the Women's P.E. Dept. dancing class put on a stellar exhibition of the womanly art of dancing.

Farmer Stars

Then the Men's P.E. Dept. brought down the house by staging the age-old skit of "Little Nel," starring Hal Harden as Nel's father, and Dan Farmer as "Little Nel." Supported by Ray Kaufman and Dick Boyle, this skit was in the estimation of many the best ever held beneath the rafters of the Women's Gym.

Block S Beats Boxers, 18-16

The Block "S" quintet knocked the Boxers out of the ranks of the undefeated when they kayoed them 18 to 16 Monday. Each of these two teams now has one defeat, leaving the unbeaten Rose Bowlers with first place all to themselves.

John Grantham led the Block men to victory with eight points, but had to share high point honors with Mel Martin and Jack Pilieri of the Boxers, who also tallied eight digits each.

Rose Bowlers Meet Boxers in Crucial

Hal Fox's Rose Bowlers, winners of nine straight intramural football and basketball victories, will risk their consecutive victory string, unbeaten record, and basketball championship hopes when they meet the powerful Boxers in the crucial "game of the year" Tuesday, at 12:15 p. m.

Potent Outfit

The Boxers, led by varsity stars Mel Martin and Jack Pilieri, have suffered but one defeat, that at the hands of the Block "S" by two points ,who, in turn, received a 29 to 26 pasting from the Rose Bowlers.

Championship at Stake

A win for the Rose Bowlers would mean the championship, but in the event of a Boxer victory, these two quintets and the Block "S" would wind up a three-way tie for first place.

An effective fast-break, featuring Ralph Azavedo, Walt Suggs and Stew Saunders, plus the rebounding of Hal Fox, has given the Rose Bowlers many points, while the Boxers pin their hopes on the clever shooting of speedy Mel Martin.

Rose Bowlers Favorites

Although players from rival teams, all of whom have bowed to defeat before Hal Fox's gang, will be pulling for the Boxers to accomplish what they could not, it is the Rose Bowlers who have captured the imagination of the fans and coaches with their speed and wide-open style of play on the gridiron and on the court, and their team morale and confidence both on and off the field.

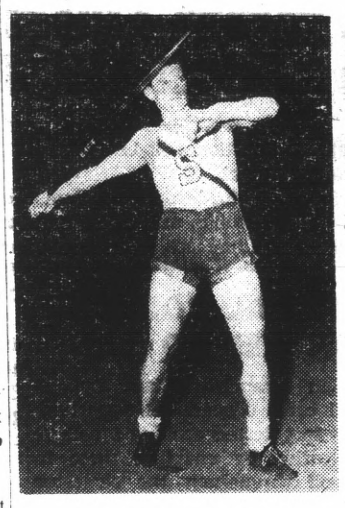
State Track Stars Limber Up

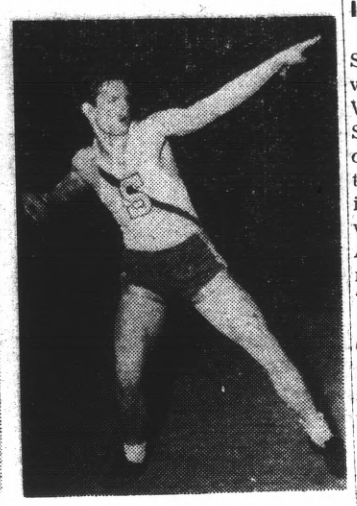


JOHN GRANTHAM

John Grantham should prove to be a stand-out on this year's State cinder squad. Letterman hurdler and javelin thrower in 1942, before serving three years in Army. Plays center and is the leading scorer on the Gator junior varsity basketball team.

"WILD BILL" KENNERLEY

Bill Kennerley, veteran baseballer, is making his first try at track. Will probably run the mile, but also has aspirations in the sprints. Chances depend upon ability of injured knee and ankle to hold up. Also plays baseball, JV basketball, and football for the Gators.



DICK WIND

Dick Wind, State freshman, hails from Poly Hi, where he threw the discus on the track squad and played center on the championship gridiron machine. Will throw javelin and shot-put in addition to discus for the Gators. Played guard on football team last fall.

GATORS LOSE TO SPARTANS 60-43, IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

The Spartans of San Jose State made it two in a row this season over the Gators when they scored a 60-43 victory Wednesday. The game, played in San Jose, was close for almost three quarters of play, but, in the closing minutes the Spartans completely took the play away from the San Franciscans.

MAGGETTI SCORER

Ed Maggetti, as in the first game, took all scoring honors by dropping in eleven field goals and four free throws for a total of 26 points. In the two games the Gators and Spartans have played this season Maggetti has scored 51 points.

SPARTANS FAST

Unlike the previous game, the Spartans started out fast, and at one time held an eleven point lead. Field goals by Collingwood, Dunn, and Mohr, coupled with a charity toss by Jack Byrne brought the half time score to 21-16, the Spartans out in front. The Gators turned loose their only offensive spurt in the opening minutes of the second half, and at one tied the score 28-28.

It was at this point that the Spartans started to pull away, mainly on long shots by Maggetti and lay-up shots by Tom Keene. Keene scored 13 points during the evening.

The Gator attack was led by our center, Tom Collingwood, and Jack Byrne, forward, who accounted for twelve and ten points respectively. Grove Mohr, who started at a guard position for the first time this season, was next with eight points.

The game was played before a large, receptive crowd that almost filled the San Jose gym. Both rooting sections were courteous in spite of rather lax officiating. When Maggetti left the floor both sections, San Francisco and San Jose, gave him a tremendous ovation. The two sections co-operated in a spelled out S-T-A-T-E yell at half time.

W. A. A.

The W. A. A. Women's Singles Matches came to a close Tuesday with Bessie Provost the winner. Twenty-eight girls entered the tournament, which was held on Thursday noons. The winners of the third round were: Barbara Jernault, Gloria Gamba, Helen Blount, Bessie Provost, and Flo Bercut. In the semi-finals were Gloria Gamba, Bessie Provost, and Flo Bercut. In this bracket, Miss Provost defeated Miss Gamba by the score of 6-2. On January 15, Miss Provost played Flo Bercut in a three-game match with Miss Provost winning by the score of 7-5, 6-2.

Clara Caburri, who has been tennis manager for the fall semester, with Bernice Crohare assisting, declared the tournament a huge success.

Another tournament, Miss Caburri said, will be held the second nine weeks of the spring term.

GATORS EVEN UP COUNT WITH CHICO IN TWO GAME THRILLER

The Golden Alligators from S F. State evened up the count when they overcame a scrappy Wildcat aggregation from Chico State last Saturday night by the overwhelming score of 57 to 31, thus avenging the defeat administered them the night before when the Wildcats edged out the Alligator machine in the closing minutes of play, 55 to 54.

Tipton Runs Wild

In the Friday night game, the Chico Wildcats, playing unusually well, gave the Gators one of their hardest-fought games of the season. Tommy Tipton, outstanding Chico forward, made life miserable for the Farmer five as he pumped 29 points through the meshed hoop to garner scoring honors for the evening, edging out Tom Collingwood, whose 28 points equaled the record set by Stater Norm Keller in 1942.

With seconds to go, Tipton swished through the clincher for the Wildcats, thus bringing to a close a thrill-packed game which saw the lead changing constantly throughout the contest.

Saturday Night Different

The Wildcats were noticeably not the team they were when they first encountered the Alligators the night before. Their offense draggled and their defense contained many loopholes which the Farmerites were quick to perceive.

Farmer Changes Style

Shifting their defensive zone to a man-to-man, the cagers from Buchanan Heights stopped cold the offensive blitzkrieg of the Wildcats, which had run wild the night before. Tommy Tipton, Chico's one-man basketball team, whose uncanny shooting Friday night paved the way to a Wildcat victory, was held to a mere trickle with his scant four markers by the spectacular guarding of Mel Martin, whose colorful exhibition of basketball was exciting to watch from a spectator's angle.

Journalists Pledged By Alpha Phi Gamma

Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, held its semi-annual pledging ceremony last Wednesday noon in the Activities Room. In the absence of President Ed Murray, Vice-President Pat Leake conducted the candlelight ritual.

Given probationary pledgeships were Pat Merrill, Vivian Allen, Doris Thulin, Rene Laboure, Bill Kennerley, Scott Hope and Phyllis Noris. Senior pledges are Hy Bik, Pat Healy and Harry Erlich.

Betty Cloak, editor of the Gator last term, was appointed pledgemaster of the neophyites. Pledge periods will last through the spring terms, with the junior pledges being advanced to senior pledges if their work on the Gater is satisfactory. Formal initiation for the senior pledges will also take place at the conclusion of the spring term.

Dr. Edward Cassady is faculty advisor of the fraternity.

Picnic, Dance on COA's Spring Social Agenda

The Class Officers Association has been busy on plans for the spring semester, according to COA President Ed Osorio, who said that the association will be more active in the future because the classes have been cooperating with each other more than they have in the past.

Dean Mary Ward has expressed the desire that the COA will sponsor the Frosh Hop next term. The organization is also backing the Junior Prom, and is very proud of Lou Rubin's excellent publicity campaign, Osorio said.

A picnic will be held in early spring at Sigmund Stern Grove, as soon as arrangements can be made. This activity was planned for last fall, but the grove could not be reserved at a suitable time.

Audio-Visual Confab To Be Held Feb. 8

A conference of the department of audio-visual instruction will be held in the Frederic Burk Auditorium on Friday, February 8, at 9 a.m., according to Mrs. Anna V. Dorris, associate professor of geography and director of visual instruction.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss statewide and local problems, formulate policy, and establish a plan of action for audio-visual work. Workers in the field and teacher-training students will be present. "The war has emphasized the need for audio-visual instruction," Mrs. Dorris declared. Francis W. Noel has been appointed state director of the field in the State Department of Education.

The conference on February 8 will be an all-day session and both faculty and students are invited to be present.

Dr. Sidney Lovett Speaks On Student Service Fund

Introducing the World Student Service Fund to State, Dr. Sidney Lovett, Yale faculty member and national chairman of the Fund, spoke to students and faculty in A207 last Monday noon.

Recently returned from a tour of European colleges and universities, Dr. Lovett spoke of the new needs that have arisen as the result of the war's end. He announced that the goal for American students had been set at $500,000, and that the money would be apportioned for the following:

1. The convalescence in Switzerland of tubercular students.
2. Hostels and rest homes for underprivileged students.
3. Food canteens to provide students with at least one full meal a day.
4. Temporary shelter to replace bombed-out dormitories.

Dr. Lovett told how European colleagues were again opening their doors, and announced that the countries most in need of aid are France, Belgium, and Holland.

"In supporting the World Student Service Fund," he said, "you are salvaging the seed of learning in Europe."

Ben Cowles, a student at the University of California and western secretary of the W.S.S.F., gave a few hints on organization and told of the drives being carried on in other colleges.

Announcing this Monday as the opening day of State's two-week W.S.S.F. campaign, co-chairman Vin O'Leary said that the college's goal was $1000. He asked for volunteer workers to make personal contacts throughout the campus.

Thanks for the Xmas Trees - - - - GI Joes

Servicemen at Letterman General Hospital, in a letter to State College students, expressed their gratitude for the 100 Christmas trees and additional gifts which were presented to them during the Christmas holidays.

The following is a letter which was received by Dean Mary A. Ward in recognition of State's contribution:

"We want to take this opportunity to thank you and your students for the magnificent contribution made by State College to our Christmas decoration program.

"The trees you decorated were sent to Letterman Hospital, where they were received with the greatest appreciation and the Red Cross Field Director at Letterman, pronounced the trees 'really lovely,' and said that it would be difficult to measure the genuine joy they had brought to all the patients.

"Your whole-hearted cooperation with us on the mechanics of the project was also greatly appreciated. It was a real pleasure to work with you."

(Signed) Mrs. Ralph Reynolds, Chairman, Camp and Hospital Committee.

Present Queen Candidates at Special Rally Today

State's most beautiful woman??? Eleven answers to this current question will be presented at the rally today noon in the women's gym.

The Junior Prom candidates, to be introduced by Junior President Lou Rubin, are Eleanor Stone, Marilyn Stenson, Coleen Calvert, Dee Longacre, Betty Hickman, Mimi Robbins, Betty, Henri, Joan Uhler, Pat Kilkenney, and Celine Gassman.

Perennial M.C. Vin O'Leary is expected to give a little pep talk about the State-Cal. Aggie, and State-College of Pacilc basketball games to be played this Friday and Saturday night, Kezar pavillion. Rita Koller, head cheerleader, will introduce a new yell, tried out for the first time at the State-San Jose game.

Boogie selections, rendered by music student Dick Wyands, will be followed by a dance number from Pat Norman. "The Three Jays," Betty Henri, Janet Joue, and Rita Kroner, will present a melody of songs.

Community singing, lead by O'Leary, will round out the program.

SPECIAL COURSES OFFERED TO VETS

San Francisco State College will offer educational opportunities to veterans seeking a college education by enabling them to enroll throughout the semester and providing basic courses for them.

This flexible arrangement, which will be put into effect at the opening of the spring semester, February 5, provides special workshop courses or those veterans who have not registered by March 4. The workshop courses will prepare the returnees for regular classes scheduled to begin at mid-semester, April 8. These classes will carry full college credit.

A second series of workshop preparatory courses, leading to enrollment in regular courses during the summer sessions or the fall semester, will begin on April 22 and May 6.

To advise the returning veterans, a special counselling department has been established under the direction of Mr. Harold Harden, associate professor of physical education.

Mr. Freeburg to Complete Doctor's Thesis in Music

Mr. Roy Freeburg, associate professor of music, will leave Monday for Stanford University, where he will complete a thesis or his doctor's degree in music education. While he is on leave of absence Miss Dee Hyatt from the University of California Extension faculty will take over his classes.

Music Fed Elects Officers; Constitution to Be Revised

Revision of the Music Federation constitution, plans for the Symphony Forum, and introduction of officers for the coming semester were on the agenda at the recent mass Fed discussion Monday, January 14.

All the present officers will retain their positions for the following term, with the exception of the member-at-large, who will be Clara Caburi. Other officers include Rita O'Neill, president; Ed Doty, vice-president; Barbara Warren, secretary, and Hal Graubart, treasurer.

New Gater Editors To Be Announced At Publication Dinner

Editors of the Golden Gater for the coming semester will be announced at the Publications Dinner, Thursday, January 24, at the Rivera Restaurant, 621 Union. Dr. J. Paul Leonard is the tentative guest speaker.

The banquet, a semi-annual affair sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma, journalism fraternity, is open to all Gater and Franciscan staff members as well members of Alpha Phi Gamma.

Betty Hickman, business manager, Golden Gater, is handling the reservations for the dinner. The price is $1.90 per person, payable to Miss Hickman by Wednesday, January 23, at the latest.

Social Plans Laid

Foremost in the minds of next term's officers are plans for a more active Fed, and they hope to sponsor many affairs which will be of interest to both the student body and the Federation members. Although the organization has not been very active this semester, it is still a large group and can organize many parties, picnics, and concerts.

At the meeting many servicemen who were former members spoke about the activities of the group in the past and the fine work that it had done.
